

GLEASON'S GYM HISTORY

Gleason's Gym is the oldest active boxing gym in the USA. The gym has produced 136 world champions, 2 Olympic Gold Medalists and hundreds of amateur champions. Our first world champion was Jake "Raging Bull" La Motta. La Motta is one of the most famous of Gleason's trained champions. Right up there with him is Muhammed Ali. Ali, then Cassius clay, trained for Sonny Liston the first time, February 25, 1964, in Gleason's Gym. In one of the biggest upsets of the 20th century, Ali won the world heavyweight title when the unpopular Liston failed to answer the bell for the 7th round. Roberto Duran, the Panamanian superman, won three world titles using Gleason's Gym as his training base. Gleason's Gym is not only a sweat shop, but it's also a movie set. Dozens of commercials and hundreds of still shoots join the 26 movies that have been made in the gym.

THE BOXING CAMP

If you like baseball you just can't go to Yankee Stadium and train with the Yankees, nor can you go to Madison Square Garden and shoot hoops with the Knicks.

Boxing is the only sport where you may actually be training right next to a world champion or top contender, certainly that's sometimes true at Gleason's Gym. For the Fantasy Camp, we're guaranteeing that same opportunity for four action-packed days.

The camp will include intensive boxing discussions, training sessions, sparring sessions and training drills. At the end of the camp you will have the chance to showcase your new skills in our Fantasy Camp sparring show. The camp will give you the chance to learn from world-class trainers, Hall of Fame boxers and world champions both past and present.

Professional and amateur sparring partners will also be available to help with your training. Men, women and children are all welcome.

No previous boxing experience is necessary. All skill levels, from beginner to veteran, will be present at the camp.

BOXING WORKOUT

ESPN convened a panel of experts made up of sports scientists from the US Olympic Committee, academicians who study the science of muscles and movement, a star, 2-sport athlete, and several journalists who cover professional sports watching athletes triumph and fail. They identified 10 categories or skills that make up the ultimate in athleticism. They assigned a number from 1-10 ranking the demands each sport makes of each of the 10 categories / skills. They used this rubric to determine the degree of difficulty for each sport. Boxing had the knockout punch. As the panel sized up all the sports, when it came to the "Tale of the Tape," boxing came out as the pound-for-pound champ. The panel identified boxing as the world's toughest sport.

The FANTASY CAMP is ideal for all Masters and White Collar class boxers.

Learn boxing skills and techniques from Hall of Fame boxers and world champions.
